A Message From the Superintendent

Dear Members of the Clark School Community,

The most remarkable aspect of being an educator is that each year we get to start anew, building on the strengths of the past but making the necessary adjustments to become even stronger as we move ahead. I am beyond excited as a result of the successful first two months of our new school year. Our twelve-month and ten-month/two-week administrators and support staff worked diligently throughout the summer to ready us for an outstanding opening in September. Our maintenance team led by Mr. John Pingor is deserving of a special acknowledgement for our buildings and grounds being in such good shape. They were engaged in a number of projects this summer that will provide our students and staff with enhanced facilities for years to come. The importance of this physical upkeep of our schools should never be devalued. The new snack shack at ALJ and the VRS window project are two especially noteworthy endeavors that we are most proud of.

As you know, schools reopened for students on Tuesday, September 6. This first day of school is always a most special one and one that we, as a school district, were excited for. These expectations for a strong opening that we had were not only met but they were exceeded. Getting to see a large number of our parents and guardians at our various Back-to-School Nights was equally rewarding. Please know that we, as an administrative team, have an open door policy throughout the year and are here to address any concerns that you may have. It is our sincere hope to continue to “inspire greatness” through the work that we do.

During these first few months of school, we have already been fortunate enough to see several examples of “greatness.” For instance, ALJ is successfully transitioning to its new A/B block schedule model. This model allows our students to take an additional full-year course or two additional semester-long courses each year. In addition, our teachers are with their students for extended periods of time and these extensions allow for even more meaningful teaching and learning experiences. At CHK, the new Leadership Educational Mentoring Program has been going well. This program began with our eighth-graders speaking to our sixth-graders as a means of acquainting these new students to CHK. The FKH 5K Glow Run/Walk Health and Wellness Fair in early October, led by Chairperson Jason Fogu, was an ideal opportunity for the school community to connect regarding healthy living. The VRS Storytime and Legends of the Courtyard evening activities, led by Grade One Teacher Patricia Peitz, were highly effective and enjoyable ways of engaging our students around reading.

Members of our school community have recently been honored. For example, ALJ Business Teacher Brian Kenyon was selected to speak at the New Jersey Science Convention on Google Classroom at the end of October in Princeton. Brian and VRS Technology Teacher Nicole Czarnecki have attended a Google Boot Camp and became “resident experts” on this technological tool. We are looking to expand the use of this tool throughout our district in order to provide more virtual types of learning experiences for our students. In addition, ALJ Senior Julia Melao was selected as the Vice President of the New Jersey Future Educators Association. She spoke at this group’s statewide conference in mid-October at The College of New Jersey. I, along with her teacher Mr. Frank Stebbins, had the immense pleasure of watching her present. Her thorough level of preparedness portrayed our entire district in the most positive of lights.

We are excited for our Parent University initiative that is moving into its second year. The kickoff will be on Wednesday, November 30 at 7 p.m. Pre-K to 12 parents/guardians are able to sign up for anywhere from one to three half-hour sessions to be held at FKH and to be focused on various topics involving parental support of teaching and learning at home. Future themes for these evenings tentatively are helping to understand and prepare for testing, health and safety, and summer programs and transitions. The continued goal behind these evenings is to cement our already strong home/school connections. Many thanks to those of you who participated in our survey because the information that was gleaned from it is proving invaluable in terms of our planning process.

As we head into the holidays, I hope that you and your families are able to enjoy the season and find some time to relax. In the spirit of Thanksgiving, you are deserving of a very special thanks for your strong support of our schools. As always, I eagerly anticipate seeing you at our various events. Together we will be able to witness the “greatness” that is characteristic of our schools and, even more importantly, your children. We are thankful to you for sharing them with us.

Yours sincerely,
Edward Grande
Arthur L. Johnson Hosts College Fair

The Arthur L. Johnson High School Guidance Department held its annual College Fair on Thursday, October 6th from 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in both gymnasiums. More than 300 students, parents, teachers, and administrators were present for the opportunity to meet with admissions representatives from over 120 colleges, universities, and branches of the military. Students and families discussed a variety of topics with the representatives, including admissions requirements, program offerings, financial aid, and much more. These conversations assisted students in getting a sense of what might fit best for them in their college planning.

Schools exhibited at the fair included The College of New Jersey, Elon University, Villanova University, University of Connecticut, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, and many other public and private institutions of higher education. “I was elated to see the success of this event by the number of students and parents that attended. It is such a supportive and encouraging environment. I enjoyed walking around and seeing all the positive interaction among the college representatives and students,” said Supervisor of Pupil Personnel Services/Guidance Mrs. Bonnie Mingin.

The Arthur L. Johnson High School Guidance Department would like to offer a sincere thank you to all the college representatives and visitors for a worthwhile event!

CALC Holds First Meeting

The Crusader Athletic Leadership Council, an organization that has been founded to help educate our student athletes with some of the expectations that we have for them as they compete interscholastically in a variety of athletics, held its inaugural meeting on Tuesday, October 25, 2016.

The C.A.L.C. hosted speaker Chris B. Williams, who discussed leadership as it pertains to all student athletes. As a positive energy coach, motivational speaker, entrepreneur and mentor, Chris B. Williams captivates with an optimistic outlook on life.

The Crusader Athletic Leadership Council would like to thank Chris B. Williams for coming to Arthur L. Johnson High School to share some of his insightful ideas on leadership as it relates to student athletes. Mr. Gus Kalikas, Athletic Director in the Clark School District, had this to say about the event: “The C.A.L.C. would like to thank Chris Williams for coming in to share his thoughts on leadership. His vast experience was not only interesting, but useful in our quest to develop better leaders amongst our student athletes.”

Columbus Day Essay Contest

Fifth grader Kaitlyn Donkersloot of Valley Road School won the Columbus Day Essay Contest sponsored by Clark UNICO. Kaitlyn read her essay at the Clark UNICO Italian Festival on Saturday, October 9th.

Each year, the organization sponsors the essay contest. Every school is invited to participate, and one winner from each school is selected. This year, students wrote about an Italian who made a positive contribution to society.

“Our school is proud of Kaitlyn. She did her research and wrote well. It was an honor for her to be selected,” stated Valley Road Principal Joe Beltramba.

Elect to Read at Valley Road School

PJ’s, teddy bears, and books brought big smiles to the faces of kindergarteners, first graders, and second graders at Valley Road Elementary School. The theme of the evening was “Elect to Read.” This year’s theme coincides with the presidential election encouraging students to choose to read. The children’s excitement and interest escalated as the teachers read a variety of stories to the eager listeners. The evening was topped off with delicious snacks and lots of laughter. It was a night full of fun, friends, and literature.

Valley Road Principal Joseph Beltramba stated, “During this campaign season, we are encouraging our students to ‘Elect to Read.’ So many students, ‘elected’ to come and listen to stories at VRS Story Time. Mrs. Peitz led the committee of teachers and parents who set up this wonderful evening of reading to students in several smaller groupings. We would also like to thank the PTA for their generous donation of snacks.”

Story Time at Valley Road Elementary School was a night that will remain in the minds and hearts of all the children who attended. Events like this and many others are part of the school’s annual reading incentive program run by Trish Peitz, Valley Road teacher. The program also asks that students in all grades keep a reading log. At the end of the month, each student who has met the monthly goal receives an incentive as a reward.

Hehnly Fifth Graders Study Native Americans

The fifth grade classes at Hehnly School are learning about the Native American Indian tribes of North America. Students created sand paintings like the shaman of the Navajo tribe did to heal the sick. Similar to the Makah tribe, students designed totem poles to illustrate activities that they do with their family.

Guest Speaker Visits Carl H. Kumpf Middle School

Carl H. Kumpf Middle School had the pleasure of hosting Dr. Frank Rudnesky, former principal of Belhaven Middle School and author of 50 Great Things Leaders Do: Let’s Get Fired Up, on Tuesday, September 20th. Dr. Rudnesky has been recognized for the positive culture and climate he created at Belhaven Middle School.

During his visit, Dr. Rudnesky engaged students in a discussion about the qualities of an effective leader. Students responded that a leader must possess strong character and a positive attitude. He challenged all students to be leaders and upstanders as opposed to followers and bystanders.

Dr. Rudnesky also encouraged students to be “epic, not ordinary.” He asked students, “What will be your legacy?” As part of their self-reflection, he invited students to consider those who had impacted their lives. Other common themes included that one person can make a difference and be nice to others inspiring students to reach out to their peers if they need a friend.

One of his hand-on activities required students to trace a hand on a brown paper bag and put it on their wall, so they could pat themselves on the back if no one else was around to do it.

Assistant Principal of Carl H. Kumpf Middle School Amanda Davidson stated, “Dr. Rudnesky gave an empowering speech on leadership and the power that each individual has to help others and themselves.”

Earlier in the year, the eighth graders gave LEM (Leadership Educational Mentoring) speeches to the incoming sixth graders sharing tips for middle school success. Dr. Rudnesky’s visit reinforced the leadership skills fostered through that experience.

Hehnly School Students Visit Liberty Hall Museum

Students in Mrs. Caplette’s and Mrs. Ferrentino’s class at Hehnly School enjoyed exploring an antique fire engine during their class trip to Liberty Hall Museum at Kean University. Students also learned about life during the colonial era by touring a historic mansion, learning games that colonial children played, and creating their own horn book using a quill pen and ink. The field trip was a great learning experience for all who attended truly bringing history to life! It was a wonderful opportunity for students to actually experience what they have been learning about in the classroom.
The Valley Road School Guzman Family Fundraiser Campaign

The K-Kids Car Wash held at Valley Road School on October 8th earned over $1,600 for the Guzman family. This event was sponsored by K-Kids and their advisors Mrs. Spence, Mrs. Belverio, and Mrs. Dzurovcik. Teachers, students, and parents lent their assistance in washing cars making the day a success.

Mrs. Guzman stopped in to the car wash on Saturday where she took a group photograph with the K-Kids and the advisors. She mentioned that the family is very appreciative of Valley Road School’s help by students, staff, and parents.

Other efforts on behalf of Valley Road School include a teacher and her husband who were able to secure airline tickets for the Guzmans to travel for a medical treatment in Mexico. The Valley Road School Social Committee is also collecting food for the family to help their grandfather as he watches the children while the parents travel for treatment.

If anyone would like to provide assistance of any kind for the Guzman family, feel free to contact Sarah Badillo, the Valley Road School guidance counselor, or K-Kids advisors Paula Spence, Kim Belverio, or Sue Dzurovcik at 732-388-7900. To reach someone via email, please contact sbadillo@clarkschools.org or jbeltramba@clarkschool.org. The GoFundMe page for the Guzman Family is https://gofundme.com/2dterz8.

Hehnly Student Wins Columbus Day Essay Contest

When October rolls around most people’s attention turn to pumpkin picking, apple cider, and one of America’s most famous Italians, Christopher Columbus. Recently, the Clark UNICO Association sponsored a Columbus Day Essay contest, inviting students from throughout the town to write an essay about an Italian American that they felt made significant contributions to our world.

The winner from the Frank K. Hehnly School was fifth grade student, Reese Passuth. She wrote about Christopher Columbus and his contributions to the world. In her essay, Reese explained how Christopher Columbus not only founded the New World, but went a step further in exploring how his expedition changed life for many.

“I’m very proud of Reese and her essay,” explained Mrs. Bergin, Principal of Hehnly School. “She captured the important accomplishments of Christopher Columbus and shared them very eloquently.”

Mr. Ed Grande, Superintendent of Clark Schools stands with Reese Passuth, fifth grader at the Frank K. Hehnly School and winner of the Columbus Day Essay contest for her school sponsored by the Clark Unico Association.
Arthur L. Johnson Student Named State Officer

Julia Melao, a senior at ALJ, has been selected as Vice President for the statewide New Jersey Future Educators Association. Julia attended a leadership training at Lehigh University. She will also be responsible for planning the NJFEA Conferences throughout the year and guiding the direction of the organization.

“Julia is the type of student who excels when she is challenged. She is already an advocate for education and has the ability to immediately create positive change in whatever endeavor she pursues,” commented teacher and advisor of The Future Educators/Tomorrow’s Teachers program, Franklin Stebbins.

“Oftentimes, when I tell others I plan to pursue a career in education, I’m told many reasons why I should not be an educator. I’m hoping that being a part of this program will show me all of the reasons why I should be a teacher. In American society, teacher’s lack the credit they truly deserve. What I love about this program is that it builds educators up by highlighting strengths and by showing how much of a difference a teacher can make in a student’s life,” stated Melao.

The Future Educators/Tomorrow’s Teachers program is in its second year at ALJ and offers students the opportunity to obtain college credits through a partnership with Rider University. In its first year, the program was one of six chapters recognized at the statewide Service and Leadership dinner for its community projects. Last year, the group hosted a book drive collecting over 600 books and organized a weeklong science enrichment after school programs. Additionally, the group raised over $500 for pediatric cancer research with the help of the ALJ Athletic Program. At the dinner, Stebbins was also invited to be the keynote speaker on the topic of advocacy and leadership for future educators.

Mentor Links: The Many Colors of Autumn Leaves

On Thursday October 20th the Frank K. Hehnly School LINKS Mentoring Program held its third monthly meeting. Mentees and Links enjoyed a group lunch before heading outside into the unseasonably warm air to discover something they all held in common with the leaves which had fallen to the grass below their lofty home. The students were asked by program leaders Lisa Giandana, Sarah Badillo, and Nina Conner to gather as many different colors, shapes, and sizes of fallen leaves as they could find. The group then discussed that despite the unique characteristics of each of their leaves, all shared many commonalities, having once been green and sharing the same function for the trees they grew on. The students then regrouped inside to create a work of art made from transfers of collected leaves and student’s hands. The mural announces that, like autumn leaves, the students of Hehnly School are each unique but all belong to one larger family. The children are impatiently awaiting their next activity!
“Legends of the Courtyard” Reading Event at Valley Road School

The teachers caused a fright on this October night filled with ghost stories, treats, and a courtyard stroll. Valley Road Elementary School held its annual “Legends of the Courtyard” reading event for fourth and fifth grade students on October 20th. The excitement began as the kids entered the Halloween decorated gym with pumpkins, blowup décor, and darkness. Lights turned off as flashlights turned on, and the stories began. Students rotated to three spooky storytelling stations. After their stories were finished, the students took a stroll through the darkened courtyard where some of Valley Road’s amazing teachers popped out to cause a fright! It was an exciting evening that the students will never forget! “Legends of the Courtyard” is part of Valley Road’s reading program which is designed to promote a love of reading among the entire school community.

Randazza Receives Wendy’s High School Heisman Award

On October 18th, Gianna Randazza, senior at Arthur L. Johnson High School, was named a school winner of the Wendy’s High School Heisman Award. She will receive a certificate in recognition of her leadership both on the field and in the classroom.

Gianna has been a stand-out athlete throughout her years at ALJ. Her contributions to the softball program are significant, most notably leading the 2016 team to the Union County Tournament Championship. Gianna has been named the Union County Softball Player of the Year two years in a row as well as First Team All-Conference, County, and State. Additionally, Gianna plays for a travel team. In November, Gianna will be signing a letter of intent to attend and play softball at Boston College next fall. Gianna is also a four-year member of the volleyball and track & field teams. Her athleticism has lent itself to success in these sports as well.

In school, Gianna has been able to carry a competitive grade point average in honors and Advanced Placement courses. She participates in the Peer Leadership program as well as Heroes & Cool Kids, a mentor organization for middle schoolers.

In partnership with the Heisman Trophy Trust, Founder of Wendy’s, Dave Thomas, began the Wendy’s High School Heisman®. It has recognized more than 600,000 high school seniors who have demonstrated service to their communities, respect to others, a commitment to education, and excellence on the field.
Arthur L. Johnson embraced the Crusader Spirit on the first Friday of the school year at the fall pep rally. The event, run by the Student Council, featured all fall coaches and players. In addition to fostering school spirit, the pep rally was designed to encourage students to support their school teams and kick off the year on a strong, peppy note!

Each sports team had their captains speak about the most recent games on the roster and their positive hopes for the year. The teams featured included football, gymnastics, and tennis, among many others. Ms. Lisa Bukowiec, co-advisor of the Student Council, stated, “The captains did an excellent job organizing their teams.”

The ALJ marching band and color guard, directed by the hard-working and extremely dedicated Rachel Bollaro, was featured throughout the event. Matthew Kowalenko, the new school DJ this year, provided music for the cheerleaders and teams.

The cheerleaders, proudly donning their new uniforms, performed two exciting routines: one cheer and several stunts. “As always, the Johnson cheer squad had excellent performances, and their new uniforms looked awesome!” commented Ms. Bukowiec.

Mr. Fosco, ALJ history teacher, was the official Master of Ceremonies for the rally. According to Ms. Marie Palma, Student Council co-advisor, “He has held this position for many years now. He was awesome at introducing each team with his own personal style and enthusiastic flair.”

Mr. Delconte, the head football coach, made an appearance at the end of the pep rally to build excitement for the announcement of the football team and the senior captains this season. The football team proceeded to the field to do their famous, “Let’s Go Johnson!” chant and huddle. The remaining student crowd stood in the bleachers cheering.

Ms. Palma stated, “Overall, the fall pep rally is by far my favorite rally of the year because there is a charge of electricity amongst the student body. It really helps make everyone excited about a new school year as well as making everyone (students and staff) feel united!”
Snack Shack Ribbon Cutting at ALJ

On the evening of Friday, September 16th, Arthur L. Johnson High School had a ceremonial ribbon cutting to debut a new snack shack for the school’s athletic events. Many attended the event, including Board of Education Members Laura Caliguire and Steven Donkersloot, Superintendent Ed Grande, Principal Rick Delmonaco, Assistant Principal Daniel Hemberger, Content Area Supervisor Anthony Emmons, and Supervisor of Educational Initiatives Christine Casale Broski.

The evening began with a few words from Athletic Director Gus Kalikas, who presented a plaque to the Booster Club to adorn the walls of the new snack shack. The ribbon cutting occurred next with Mr. Grande and Mr. Delmonaco doing the honors.

The snack shack was built by Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds John Pingor and his maintenance staff, who worked extremely hard on the project. It is run primarily by the Arthur L. Johnson High School’s Athletic Booster Club. The Booster Club diligently sells concessions throughout the school’s home athletic contests. Booster Club members Scott Bohm, who also is a member of the Board of Education, Melissa Purcell, and Elise Cuccolo often run the stand on Friday nights. They feel that the new stand will ultimately allow for the club to raise more money to give back to all of the athletic programs.

“The ALJ Athletic Booster Club would like to thank the Clark Board of Education for the new state-of-the-art snack shack,” Bohm said. “The board’s commitment to the students and athletes is and always has been its number one priority. Again, the ALJ Athletic Booster Club expresses our deepest gratitude for allowing us to serve the student athletes of ALJ.”

Johnson High School hosted a football game that night, and the packed crowd enjoyed the new snack shack throughout the night.

Touch a Truck at Valley Road School

On Saturday September 24, the Valley Road Elementary School PTA invited ‘Touch a Truck’ to the school grounds. Kids of all ages got to experience firsthand the magic of first responder vehicles, helicopters and fire trucks. Smiles filled their faces as they climbed aboard and met the women and men that put their lives in danger to save others. It is an experience that the young students at Valley Road Elementary school will never forget. Thank you to all who donated their time, equipment and knowledge. Your generosity and presence made it such an exciting event for all who were able to attend.
What’s New at Clark Preschool

As we near the end of the first quarter of the school year, the children of Clark Preschool have been engaged and captivated! In September, the nurse taught the children how to protect themselves against bad germs. Colds, gastroenteritis, otitis media, conjunctivitis, and sore throat are among the most common childhood diseases. And children in groups are breeding grounds for illness. Their little hands rub their runny noses and then transfer infectious agents onto shared toys. Resistance to infection and improvement of their immunity system comes with time. The single most important task a preschooler can do to prevent illness is to wash their hands frequently and thoroughly. The preschoolers learned that “GERMS are not for sharing.”

In October the Clark Fire Department visited the Preschool for National Fire Prevention. This kicked off a week of fire prevention activities in the classrooms. The fire department’s focus is on fire safety, prevention and overall personal safety at home and school from FIRE. The firemen dressed in full gear and demonstrated the sounding of the fire alarm. The children viewed the “Sparky the fire dog” video, which was followed by hands on experience with the fire hoses. Sparky kept the children riveted on key messages and the activities provided multiple ways to absorb concepts providing maximum impact.

The high school Key Club, advised by Ellen Zamboni, School Counselor at the Arthur L. Johnson High School, presented a unit on “Manners” to the preschoolers. The Key Club, sponsored by Kiwanis International, has a main objective in carrying out their mission to serve the children of the world. The high school students provided hands-on-service to teach and reinforce manners an important part of social skills at the preschool level. The high school performed skits requiring feedback from the children demonstrating key manners and being a good friend. They ended their presentation by singing a song about manners to the tune of Barney’s, “I Love You Song” and recited a “Kindness Pledge” together with the children. At the preschool level, manners are an important part of social skills. Children who develop manners at a young age will carry them without thought into adulthood.

The children marched in the 7th Annual Preschool Halloween parade to conclude October. November is highlighted by Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving is the perfect time to teach the children about being thankful and to appreciate the blessings in their lives.
Booster Club Hosts
Meet the Fall Coaches Evening

On Wednesday, September 07, 2016, the Arthur L. Johnson High School Crusader Athletic Booster Club held their first meeting of the year. In attendance at the packed house were coaches, players, and parents who had the opportunity to meet the fall coaches and listen to them speak on behalf of their teams in addition to listening to a guest speaker who talked about maximizing your high school athletic experience.

The program continued with Lee Rubin, a guest speaker that has inspired audiences across the country, through keynote addresses, corporate training sessions, student leadership conferences, awards ceremonies and other events, with his powerful, insightful and relatable messages of leadership development and personal growth.

Lee was a hometown star, a three-sport student-athlete who, through hard work, determination, and faith, became a three-year starter and defensive captain for Penn State’s Nittany Lions Football team. Lee Rubin received a full athletic scholarship to play football for the Nittany Lions under the leadership of legendary coach, Joe Paterno. Lee not only emerged as a three-year starting free safety, he also became a captain of the team. His academic and athletic success has provided a tremendous opportunity to understand and communicate winning strategies and principles.

Gus Kalikas, Athletic Director at Arthur L. Johnson High School, had this to say about the event. “The Booster Club was thrilled to be able to bring Lee Rubin into our school district to talk to our student athletes, parents, and coaches. The messages of the evening resonated with our audience in all aspects of one’s life. I am sure that everyone in attendance will implement some of these valuable ideas and incorporate them into their everyday lives.”

The Booster Club and Arthur L. Johnson High School would like to thank Lee Rubin for an educational and tremendous evening for all who attended.
