PHYSICAL RERAINT AND SECLUSION
Use of Physical Force

Physical Restraint(s)/Seclusion

The Board of Education believes that maintaining an orderly, safe environment is conducive to learning and is an appropriate expectation of all staff members within the district. To the extent that staff actions comply with all applicable statutes and Board policy governing the use of physical force, including physical restraint of students, staff members will have the full support of the Board of Education in their efforts to maintain a safe environment.

The Board recognizes that there are times when it becomes necessary for staff to use reasonable restraint to protect a student from harming himself/herself or to protect others from harm. (Alternative language: “to use reasonable restraint to provide a safe environment for students.”)

Physical restraint means any mechanical or personal restriction that immobilizes or reduces the free movement of a person’s arms, legs or head. Excluded from this definition is the use of helmets, mitts and similar devices used to prevent special education students from hurting themselves if their use is documented in their Individualized Education Program (IEP).

Reasonable restraint is defined as immobilization of the individual’s opportunity for movement by staff member(s) through direct contact using devices and techniques designed to control acute or incidental aggressive behaviors or to control involuntary movements or lack of muscular control due to organic causes or conditions. Such constraint will not be used except as necessary to ensure a student’s safety and that of others, and then only for as long as is necessary for control of the situation. Such restraint is not to be used as a disciplinary measure. Restraint includes “aversive techniques” which are defined as deliberate activities designed to establish a negative association with a specific behavior.

Seclusion is defined as the confinement of an individual in a room, with or without staff supervision, in a manner that prevents the person from leaving. Involuntary seclusion is permitted in accordance with the student’s IEP or in an emergency to prevent immediate or imminent injury to the person or others, so long as it is the least restrictive alternative.

Physical restraint may be used by staff members to:

1. Quell a disturbance threatening injury to others.
2. Obtain possession of weapons or other dangerous objects, including a controlled substance upon or within the control of such student.
3. Protect other persons or property.
4. Direct the movement or actions of a student to avoid undue or deliberate disruption of the classroom and/or other parts of the school.
5. Protect an individual from his/her own actions.
In the case of students with disabilities, any restraint used beyond the specific situations listed above shall be identified on the student’s Individual Education Plan (IEP) as a form of intervention.

Such acts shall not be construed to constitute corporal punishment within the meaning and intent of this policy.

Staff using such constraint shall be subject to the following:

1. Such use of physical restraint shall not be used as punishment, discipline or for the convenience of staff.
2. Staff using restraint shall complete an incident report with the principal or his/her designee justifying the use of such measures. The administration shall notify the parent(s)/guardian(s) of the incident.
3. Restraint, including restraint devices, shall be applied only by staff who have completed necessary and appropriate training.
4. Staff shall maintain continuous visual supervision on any student upon which restraint or devices have been used to ensure the student’s health and safety.
5. A student’s respiration and/or circulation shall not be restricted.
6. A staff member acting alone shall not be expected to use force or restraint when the risk of harm to the student or staff member would likely result from the use of force which outweighs the risk of harm presented by the student’s conduct.

District personnel who transport special education students to and from off-campus facilities and consider the use of a physical restraint device to control physical activity or aggression of a special education student shall follow these guidelines:

1. The parent/guardian must be notified of the intended use prior to use of the physical restraint device. Parent/guardian input will be a major factor in determining whether to use the device. If there is a difference of opinion between district personnel and the parent/guardian with regard to the use of a physical restraint device, the Superintendent, after consultation with the Department of Support Services will determine whether the device is to be used.
2. Once authorization to use a restraint device is obtained, the Supervisor of Support Services is to ensure that a written plan for the use of the device is prepared. The written plan is to be in place prior to the use of the device and is to include:
   a) the purpose/goal for utilization of the device;
   b) the specific type and model number of the restraint device to be used;
   c) the specific times it is to be used;
   d) a method of assessing the effectiveness of its use.
Reporting/Notification Requirements

1. Injuries caused by the use of restraints and/or seclusion in schools may be reported to the State Department of Education.
2. The parents/guardians of a special education student must be notified of each incident in which their child was placed in physical restraints or seclusion.
3. The Board shall keep records and compile annual reports of each instance and the underlying emergency that necessitated the use of physical restraints or seclusion.
4. Parents, guardians and other persons standing in place of parents shall be notified by the Board of the laws and regulations governing the use of physical restraints and seclusion, pursuant to chapter 814e, related to student and parental rights at the first PPT involving the student’s Individualized Education Program (IEP).
