* Buddy Smith – HVAC Mechanic, SBO/Maintenance (29)

Buddy Smith was recognized for his upcoming retirement. He has worn many hats in the school division over his 29 years as coach, lawn expert, and HVAC mechanic in the maintenance department. Mr. Rhodes and board members spoke about the many years of hard labor Mr. Smith has provided and that he has always been passionate about what he does and has done an exemplary job.

B. Board Members [added to agenda]

* Reeve Ashcraft
* Roger Franklin
Mr. Foster recognized Reeve Ashcraft and Roger Franklin as they leave the board at the end of this term. Mr. Ashcraft has served 2 years and Mr. Foster stated Reeve was passionate about serving his community. He was young and sought to become a public servant by running for the Board in support of our district’s children. He graduated from Prince George High School, has been a faithful member of the board for the last two years, has brought a youthful presence to the board, and he serves on the Maggie Walker Governors' Board and the inaugural CodeRVA board. He's enjoyed getting to know Reeve and they’ve laughed and debated about issues and he respects Reeve, and his desire for public service is much appreciated. Mr. Foster wished him luck as he pursues his educational goals. Mrs. Williams stated Mr. Ashcraft was instrumental in introducing her to social media like Twitter, Snapchat, etc.

Mr. Ashcraft withheld his comments until the School Board Member comment period.

Mrs. Williams acknowledged that Mr. Franklin has served 14 years on the School Board. Teaching children is his passion and he advocates for keeping kids firsts and she is blessed that their paths crossed. Mr. Foster also stated Mr. Franklin has been a member of the School Board for 14 years, serving as Chairman and Vice-Chairman multiple times during his tenure. A lifelong educator of high school and college students for 46 years, he has touched the lives of thousands of students in the classroom. He led the charge in his local community by being an advocate of the multiple facets of public education. He has championed funding for operational and capital needs, and crafted policies to improve academic achievement for students. His drive for competitive salaries and benefits have resulted in successful recruitment and above retention rates. He was a pioneer in web-based distance learning and he initiated Richard Bland College’s first distance education offering and championed the Prince George School system to adopt a virtual learning platform, (i.e., an alternative education for expulsion students to continue with their education and gain credits for graduation). Mr. Franklin has served on many committees and boards (i.e. Appomattox Regional Governor's School Board, College of William and Mary Board of Visitors, City of Petersburg Career and Technical Education Advisory Committee) and has held many positions overseeing academic classrooms and labs, creating, securing research and resources that allowed students the collaborative tools for learning and student achievement while employed at Richard Bland College. Mr. Franklin’s personal motto, "If you got'em, you got'em", speaks volumes on his commitment to provide the very best educational environment for every student regardless of race, economic status, nationality, physical and mental challenge. As a lifelong educator, he was committed to instill in each student the love of learning and he believes each child deserves his 200% commitment to work towards providing the best education possible. Mr. Franklin is the “real deal” and while he is from Alabama, Prince George is now his home.

Mr. Franklin humbly thanked the public for allowing him to serve the community for 14 years. He reflected on his years of service as a board member, vice chairman and chairman, stating that “hanging with these guys has been good for me and that the board has made it work by working together. Prince George is a very unique place and whatever position one holds in the division is an important job. Teaching here is very special, and we have great people in our system that impact tomorrow's generation.
They take the challenge, meet the challenge, and rise to the challenge and we can expect greatness from all our students.”

IX. PRESENTATIONS

A. North Elementary School – by Chris Romig, Principal

Ms. Romig shared her message about North Elementary School thanking her staff and Ms. Franchok for making this the best start of school year ever. She’s privileged to be working with her staff and teachers at North. Instead of telling about North’s successes, she presented a video to highlight some activities that makes North so special. The video had students and teachers speaking about clubs and activities: Art Club, Green Team (recycling products), Helping Hands (grades 3-5 giving back to the school and community), little/big interactive groups, safety patrol, Cardinal Choir, and the storybook tree (ornaments made by students of their favorite storybook characters), just to name a few. She also invited everyone to attend their choir presentation on December 14. There are two performances at 9:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. She thanked Mr. David Dockan and the rest of her staff for preparing the video. She welcomed the Board to visit North anytime. On a personal note, she thanked Mr. Ashcraft and Mr. Franklin for their time served on the board and she wished them well. She also congratulated Mr. Eley and Mr. Johnson on being elected to the board and looks forward to working with them.

B. Construction and Maintenance Update – by Ron Rhodes
Mr. Rhodes recognized and publically thanked several team players on his maintenance crew (Tony Vlk, Ralph Otey, and John Campo). These men “get it done” and he wanted them recognized because they step it up every day, providing their expertise and taking care of things. He also commented on repair of the hot water heater at Prince George High School, completed work orders and replacement of HVAC filters. He is also preparing a capital improvement list for next year to get ahead of the game.

C. Transportation Update – by Clarence Thweatt

Mr. Thweatt provided an update on the transportation department. On November 1, 2017, the School Board approved a Perfect Attendance Bonus for bus/car drivers and aides. As a result, 54 out of 61 employees have had perfect attendance so far (breakdown includes 39/46 drivers (85%); 5/5 car drivers (100%); 10/10 aides (100%). The Perfect Attendance Bonus has been an incentive to keep drivers/aides from taking time off, and it’s working. On December 8, 2017 the department had a job fair and 12 people came out with 10 potential bus/car drivers. Mr. Thweatt anticipates a driver-training class to begin in January. He is enthusiastic about the $1000 signing bonus the board approved on November 30, 2017. He feels this is another incentive to get drivers out in addition to the $500 bonus to any school district employee who recruits a driver to sign up before January 15, 2018. “Spread the word!”

X. PUBLIC COMMENT – GENERAL

Erin Ehrenfeld, 13655 Taylor Drive, Disputanta, addressed the board with her concerns relating to late afternoon buses and lack of a School Resource Officer (SRO) at Walton Elementary. She stated that there are 4-5 buses late daily at Walton Elementary affecting teachers’ time every day. She was on duty to 40 kids today and this large amount of kids causes a risk for problems. If the buses are on time in the mornings, why can’t they be on time in the afternoons? She also indicated that a SRO was promised last year but the school has yet to receive one. Walton is an open-style campus, easily acceptable to Interstates 95, 295, and Route 460. She is fearful of potential problems that could occur without a SRO on the campus.

Darkeesha Sims, 7212 Brandon Lane, Prince George, shared her concerns about late buses, particularly Bus 110. The bus has been late every day since the return from Thanksgiving break and her child is missing out on instructional time at J.E.J. Moore Middle School. If she does not take her child to school then he gets to school late which affects his grades because he is not getting proper instructional time and she feels this is not fair to him or to her to have to adjust her schedule to get him there on time.

Butch Pearson, Prince George County Police Department, was excited to talk about an enhanced Crime Solvers program. It started out tips were recorded on paper, next students texted their tips through text-a-tip program. Today there is a new way using P3.com or P3tips.com. It’s more user friendly with dropdown boxes that prompt one to answer questions and it’s live, real time. He hopes the program will be rolled out to all schools before Christmas break. Crime Solvers was introduced to the schools in the mid ‘90’s and has been a very valuable resource to the police department. He thanked Mr. Franklin and Mr. Ashcraft for their service to the community as school board members.

XI. SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER COMMENT

Mr. Ashcraft read from a prepared statement reflecting on his two years as an elected official, a freshly graduated student who fought “for the people within the hallways he had just finished walking” and he was grateful for the opportunity to serve the people. He was humbled by the tasks that were in front of the board and was inspired by the people who give Prince George the reputation it has and working together for one common purpose: Our kids, the next generation. He summarized many accomplishments the board made during his 2-year period: appointed a new superintendent to begin solving problems immediately, gave teachers and staff a raise, improved benefits, added personnel to help better serve our most challenged students, cut an outdated and inefficient IB program to give more academic opportunities to all of our students, enacted a 10-point grading scale to put our students on an even playing field for college admissions and scholarships, conducted studies on compensating our employees and providing safe buildings for our students, and updated within the technology department as a key tool to be used by teachers in the curriculum. Even with these accomplishments, there is still work to do and he feels “Mr. Johnson and Mr. Eley will be there to pick up the baton and keep us moving forward.” He thanked his parents for making him the person he is today, his mom for her love and support during his formative years, and he hoped to be half the man that his dad is. He then thanked senior staff at the School Board Office for taking time with him, answering his questions, and fighting for our kids and bringing our school system into the future. Lastly, he thanked his fellow Board Members. “Though we’ve had many disagreements that tested the patience of each other, we showed why democracy works every meeting that was held. You each debated me on my ideas, and not on my character. You questioned my information, rather than my merits. You treated me like a colleague, and not simply as a community mascot. While you each have showed me why you have been elected and re-elected to serve in this critical capacity, I hope along the way I proved to you why I deserved to share the stage as well.” He ended with, “While the future is uncertain, I like to believe that this isn’t a goodbye, but an impatient and heartfelt see you later”.

Mr. Cox thanked Ms. Romig for the popcorn and North presentation. He appreciated the positive feedback Mr. Thweatt provided on the transportation situation. He expressed gratitude working with Mr. Ashcraft and understands that he may come back and run again in the future. He respected Mr. Ashcraft’s comments made and thanked him for his service. He stated he met Mr. Franklin 18 years ago and has enjoyed their working relationship. They have the same commitment to treat employees fairly and to advocate for students. He thanked Lena Franklin for sharing Roger with the board all these years and he congratulated both of them on their new life journey.
Mr. Stevenson recognized Mr. Rhodes for being a team player. You never hear him say “I did” because he always gives credit to his staff in all situations. However, he will take the credit if anything goes “bad”. He considered the great things Mr. Franklin said about Prince George. He had three children graduate from Prince George and still has one child in the middle school. He gives credit to Prince George schools for the exposure they had with the schools, teachers, administrators, and successful outcome as Prince George graduates. He spoke about getting to know Mr. Ashcraft personally in Boston stating, “It is rare for board members to sit around and socialize and get to know one another individually. Mr. Ashcraft brought a youthful aspect to the board and refreshed technology competencies that the board needed.” They have had some heated debates but he’s always respected him and will miss him. When Mr. Stevenson first come onto the Board, Mr. Franklin was quick to accept him and made him feel welcomed and like part of a family. He has always had interesting stories to tell and he will be missed.

Mr. Foster shared with the audience that “You don’t have to like any of us, but everyone’s heart is in the right place.” Whatever side of the vote you are on, there is one common goal….our students. In October the Board met with the police and sheriffs’ departments on school safety. He is happy to say that some things have been implemented as a result of this meeting and the division continues to move in the right direction. He wished everyone a Merry Christmas. It is a time to reflect on how truly thankful you are for living and/or working in Prince George County and the Commonwealth. He also mentioned that he and Mrs. Williams would be attending the Board of Supervisors meeting on December 12, 2017 at 7:00 p.m. to hear discussion on the sewer billing credit/reimbursement at North Elementary School.
