

PARENT AND FAMILY ENGAGEMENT

The Board of Education believes that positive parent and family engagement is essential to student achievement, and thus encourages such involvement in school educational planning and operations. Parent and family engagement may take place either in the classroom or during extra-curricular activities. However, the Board also encourages parent and family engagement at home (e.g., planned home reading time, informal learning activities, and/or homework “contracts” between parents, family members and children). The Board directs the Superintendent of Schools to develop a home-school communications program in an effort to encourage all forms of parent and family engagement.

Title I Parent and Family Engagement- District Level Policy

Consistent with the parent and family engagement goals of Title I, Part A of the federal No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCLB) and its reauthorization in the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), the Board of Education will develop and implement programs, activities and procedures that encourage and support the participation of parents and family members of students eligible for Title I services in all aspects of their child’s education. The Board also will ensure that all of its schools receiving Title I, Part A funds develop and implement school level parent and family engagement procedures, as further required by federal law.

For purposes of this policy, parental involvement refers to the participation of parents in regular, two-way, and meaningful communication, involving student academic learning and other school activities.

At a minimum, parent and family engagement programs, activities and procedures at both the district and individual school level must ensure that parents and family members:

- Play an integral role in assisting their child’s learning;
- Are encouraged to be actively involved in their child’s education at school; and
- Are full partners in their child’s education and are included, as appropriate, in decision-making and on advisory committees to assist in the education of their child.

The federal definition of the term “parents” refers to a natural parent, legal guardian or other person standing in loco parentis (such as a grandparent or stepparent with whom the child lives, or a person who is legally responsible for the child’s welfare).

District and school level Title I parent and family engagement programs, activities and procedures will provide opportunities for the informed participation of parents and family members (including those who have limited English proficiency, parents and family members with disabilities, and parents and family members of migratory children).

As further required by federal law, parents and family members of students eligible for Title I services will be provided an opportunity to participate in the development of the district's Title I plan, and to submit comments regarding any aspect of the plan that is not satisfactory to them. Their comments will be forwarded with the plan to the State Education Department.

Parents and family members also will participate in the process for developing either a comprehensive or targeted "support and school improvement plan" when the school their child attends is identified by the State as needing this plan.

Parent and family member participation in development of district wide Title I plan

The Board, along with its superintendent of schools and other appropriate district staff will undertake the following actions to ensure parent and family member involvement in the development of the district wide Title I plan:

- Holding such meetings at flexible and varying times
- Holding such meetings in highly accessible places throughout the district
- Communicating about meeting logistics via announcements, through traditional means, such as newsletters and social media
- Working with groups such as PTO and SEPTO to disseminate meeting logistics

Development of school level parent and family engagement approaches

The superintendent of schools will ensure that all district schools receiving federal financial assistance under Title I, Part A are provided coordination, technical assistance and all other support necessary to assist them in planning and implementing effective parent and family engagement programs and activities that improve student achievement and school performance. As appropriate to meet individual local needs, the superintendent will:

- Hold such meetings at flexible and varying times
- Hold such meetings in highly accessible places throughout the district
- Communicate about meeting logistics via announcements, through traditional means, such as principal newsletters and social media
- Work with groups such as building based PTO and building based SEPTO to disseminate meeting logistics

Building capacity for parental involvement

To build parent capacity for strong parental involvement to improve their child's academic achievement, the district and its Title I, Part A schools will, at a minimum:

1. Assist parents in understanding such topics as the state's academic content challenging academic standards, state and local academic assessments, Title I requirements, how to monitor their child's progress and how to work with educators to improve the achievement of their child. To achieve this objective, the district and its Title I schools will:

- Foster a collaborative home/school partnership to assist parents understand actions and roles they can take to help monitor and support their child's/children's educational progress
2. Provide materials and training to help parents work to improve their child's academic achievement such as literacy training and using technology (including education digital citizenship). To achieve this objective, the district and its Title I schools will:
- Partner with the Mahopac Public Library on literacy support topics
  - Communicate about instructional programs through newsletters and social media platforms
  - Assist parents in effectively using and accessing the Parent Portal
3. Educate its teachers, specialized instructional support personnel, principals and other school leaders, and other staff, with the assistance of parents, in understanding the value and utility of a parent's contributions and on how to:
- reach out to, communicate with, and work with parents as equal partners;
  - implement and coordinate parent programs; and
  - build ties between parents and the schools.

To achieve this objective, the district and its Title I schools will look to partner with parents on developing training opportunities for the community in this area. Furthermore, the district will continue to offer parental and community involvement on the District Professional Development Committee.

4. Ensure that information related to school and parent-related programs, meetings and other activities is sent to the parents of children participating in Title I programs in an understandable and uniform format, including alternative formats, upon request, and to the extent practicable, in a language the parents can understand.

Coordination of parental involvement strategies

The district will coordinate and integrate strategies adopted to comply with Title I, Part A parental involvement requirements with parental involvement strategies adopted in connection with other Federal, State, and local programs, including public preschool programs. It will do this through oversight by the Superintendent of Schools or his/her designee.

Review of district wide parent and family engagement policy

The Board, along with its superintendent of schools and other appropriate staff will conduct, with the meaningful involvement of parents and family members, an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parent and family engagement policy in improving the academic quality of Title I schools, including the identification of barriers to greater participation by parents in activities under this policy, and the revision of parent and family engagement policies necessary for more effective involvement. To facilitate this review, the district will conduct the review during the annual community and parent engagement policy meeting, and through yearly review of this policy by the Board of Education Policy Sub-Committee.

Title I Parent and Family Engagement - School Level Approach

NOTE: Each public school served under Title I must develop with and distribute to parents and family members of participating children a written parent and family engagement policy that is also agreed on by such parents and describes the means for implementing NCLB parental involvement requirements.

Since individual schools in New York do not adopt policy, we suggest that each individual school policy be attached as an exhibit to the district-wide policy.

The [insert name of school] recognizes that parents and family members play an integral role in assisting their child's learning. We encourage parents and family members to be actively involved in their child's education at school and to become full partners in school educational planning and operations. Consistent with the parent involvement goals of Title I, Part A of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act, reauthorized by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCLB) and the Every Student Succeeds Act of 2015 (ESSA):

1. The Building Principal and appropriate staff shall convene an annual meeting, at a convenient time, to inform parents of the school's participation in Title I programs, and to explain Title I requirements and the right of the parents to be involved. All parents of children participating in a Title I program will be invited to the meeting.
2. The school staff shall offer a flexible number of meetings to provide parents the opportunity to meet with school staff and otherwise participate in their child's education. These meetings shall be held at flexible times (e.g., morning or evening) and/or in highly accessible places such as public housing projects, etc.
3. The school will provide parents with timely information about Title I programs. School staff will also describe and explain the curriculum in use at the school, the types of academic assessment that will be used to measure student progress and the proficiency levels the students are expected to meet. Parents may also request regular meetings with school staff to make suggestions and to participate, as appropriate in decisions relating to the education of their child. The school will respond to any such suggestions as soon as practical.
4. The school staff shall involve parents, in an organized, ongoing, and timely way, in the planning, review, and improvement of Title I programs, including the planning, review, and improvement of the school's parent and family engagement policy.

NOTE: Title I schools are also required to involve parents in the planning, review and improvement of the schoolwide program. But a school that already has in place a process for involving parents in the joint planning and design of the school's programs may use that process if it includes an adequate representation of parents of children participating in Title I programs. In addition, when the schoolwide plan is not satisfactory to the parents of participating children, the school must provide an opportunity to submit any parent comments on the plan.

Student Academic Achievement School-Parent Compact

NOTE: In order to comply with the law, districts must create a school-parent compact that is jointly developed with the parents of all participating children. In general, the compact must outline how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement and the means by which the school and parents will build and develop a partnership to help children achieve the state's high standards.

The compact presented below is a sample only and must be customized to reflect the actual school-parent compact. The italicized items under "Parent's Responsibilities" are those that are no longer listed in the law, but may still represent good practice.
