

A watercolor illustration of a winter landscape. The scene is dominated by a bright, snowy foreground. In the middle ground, there are several trees with thin, brown trunks and bare branches, some of which have small, dark brown buds or leaves. The background features a large, soft blue wash representing a sky or a body of water, with darker blue and grey tones suggesting distant hills or mountains. The overall style is soft and painterly.

Happy
Holidays

Signature