DISTANCE LEARNING

Additional early release days have been incorporated into the 2019-20 school calendar, for the purpose of planning changes in curriculum and instruction for the 2020-21 school year due to distance learning. Four early release days will occur during the last two weeks of the school year, including adding an early release day on one Friday during one of the last two weeks of school, if this day is needed. The school year for teachers will remain 186 days.

Teachers will have decreased teaching responsibilities on these days. On the early release days, the student school day will be from 8:30 to 11:30 for K-8 and high school students.
