INFORMATION SESSIONS

To better support parents, families and friends of people receiving services, we are offering information sessions that will help to gain access to all the resources and relevant information necessary to better support and care for the specific needs of your children.

This session will focus on the following topic: Self-Direction 101.

Self-Direction 101

This session is an introduction to Self-Direction and a breakdown of its many components. Attending this workshop does not mean you are committing to becoming a Self-Directed family, it just means you are interested in learning about the services.
