SPECIAL NEEDS TRUST

This community-based parent training program provides services to families of pre-school and school-aged children with special needs residing in Staten Island, NY. The Parents as Partners program is offered throughout the year and consists of lectures and training sessions on topics of interest to the community which include, but are not limited to: autism, speech and language, technology, sexuality, challenging behaviors, toilet training, guardianship and special needs trust.

The program also works with the SIDDRO to offer supplemental Front Door sessions. The parents, extended family, and other caretakers will attend the training sessions. Parents and caregivers will be offered childcare while the sessions are being held. This Family Support Program is open to individuals of any age and any disability.
