Parent Involvement Policy

The faculty and staff of Chelsea Heights School believe that parental involvement is essential to the students' academic success. Therefore, it is the intent of this policy to strengthen, build and foster a positive relationship between the home and school. The parent involvement policy will highlight three areas of concern: school to home communication, learning at home, and parenting.

SCHOOL TO HOME COMMUNICATION: Chelsea Heights School will design effective two way communications about school programs, policies and student progress. These communications will enable parents to monitor their children's progress and understand school progress and policies.
