

High School ESL
Mr. Niemann

Course Description

This course is designed to help students to become better readers, writers, and thinkers following the New Language Arts Progressions in accordance with the Common Core Standards. The course will support understanding of material required for success at Hostos-Lincoln Academy and in college. We will focus on simplifying complex tasks required for writing across disciplines and for passing Regents examinations, as we focus on reading comprehension, vocabulary, grammar and writing. We will learn about rhetoric, in preparation to meet the Common Core Standards – through class readings that will help you to access more difficult texts. Where possible, the curriculum will be adapted to supplement the work required in other classes. Students will have weekly work in grammar, reading comprehension and writing. Students will receive points for daily work including reading aloud, being prepared for class with a journal and pencil/pen. Students will submit work in journals and online.

Instructional Goals

- Students will develop facility in standard English Language usage and grammar.
- Students will develop positive routines in writing studying and research
- Students will become well versed in writing formats required for academic writing across the curriculum
- Students will acquire and demonstrate usage of Tier 3 vocabulary toward success on exams such as the Regents and NYSESLAT
- Students will be able to develop a variety of sentence structures
- Students will be able to establish an effective use of rhetoric including controlling tone and a voice appropriate to their audience
- Students will learn to appreciate reading for enjoyment and information
