"SURF" YOUR WAY TO COLLEGE AND CAREER

There are many sites on the web which can help guide your future. Many sites provide must-see information on careers, colleges and financial aid. Here are a few we like:

- Mapping Your Future (<http://mappingyourfuture.org/>). This site includes information to help you plan your career, select a school, and pay for your education.
- Higher Education Services Corporation (<https://www.hesc.ny.gov/>) Here you can find out about state and federal aid or link to other college or lender Web sites.
- NY CareerZone (<https://www.careerzone.ny.gov>) An innovative online career exploration and planning system. CareerZone presents current and relevant occupational and labor market information. CareerZone is sponsored by The New York State Department of Labor

Our website contains links to valuable resources, appropriate for all high school levels. Additionally, our 10th, 11th and 12th grade students utilize Naviance for college planning and post secondary goals.

The PSAT measures skills in three basic academic areas that are important for success in college: Evidence-based Reading, Writing and Math. All questions are designed to parallel ones that you will see on the SAT.

First, a raw score is computed. Students receive one point for each correct answer, regardless of difficulty. No points are deducted for unanswered questions. Next, the raw score is converted to a score on the PSAT scale of 160-760. The PSAT scale is comparable to the SAT scale of 200-800.

Score reports show a numerical score for each area measured, as well as a total score that combines your Reading/Writing score and your Math score. You will also receive sub-scores. These scores will help you determine your areas of strengths as well as areas you may want to work on before taking the SAT.

PSAT scores will be released by the College Board to all students starting Monday, December 11, 2018 via the e-mail that you registered with. Look for an e-mail from the College Board coming your way!

- If you haven't applied to college yet, now is the time.
- Remember to update your prospective college list on Naviance. If you are planning to apply to colleges that are not on your "Colleges I'm Applying To" list, please see your counselor. No material will be sent unless you meet with your counselor.

- As your college decisions come in, please let your counselor know your results so that he/she can adjust your college list as necessary.
