

Join me and the Department of Financial Services (DFS) next week, Monday November 18th from 6:30-7:30PM for an informative forum on student loans at the Nanuet High School Auditorium - 103 Church Street, Nanuet.

Millions of New Yorkers, myself included, are burdened with student debt after leaving school. As Banks Chair, I've worked alongside DFS to protect borrowers and hold the servicing and lending industries accountable for misleading practices.

This is an important and extremely helpful resource to determine what your options are and what rights you have. Everyone is welcome - those that have student loans now and students that are weighing their options and going to college in a few years.

A flyer with additional details is included below. Any questions - don't hesitate to reach out to my office by replying to this email or call me at (845) 634-9791. Hope to see you at Nanuet High School on Monday night!

Sincerely,

Ken
