

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Independent Study is designed for the student who is broadly and deeply curious about a particular subject and who can best fulfill their needs through an in-depth examination of a specific topic or subject which is not provided in the regular course offerings. It may involve research in the library, construction in a shop, investigation in a laboratory or a community project. It will be a self-directed learning activity completely divorced from any course requirement and will place emphasis on self-responsibility and self-regulation for learning. It is possible to earn up to one full credit in this manner. Any student interested in enrolling in an Independent Study course should first consult with his/her counselor and then obtain the Independent Study application. The Headmaster will give final approval. Deadline for submitting Independent Study Applications is ten days from the commencement of the semester. This program is only possible when a course offering the same material is not offered.
