

Ms. Marini's Art Class

April 6, 2020

Dear Ward Parents,

This is a quick note to say hello and share new art activities for this week! I hope that you and your families are doing well, staying healthy, and enjoying some of the projects that I have created for you. If you haven't had an opportunity to check out my Google Classroom for Art, please try to sign up for it. The projects are not mandatory, but they will exercise your child's right side creative brain (that part of the brain that manages imagination, expression, and emotional intelligence) and they also offer a calming, therapeutic outlet for students.

Please see the instructions below on how to sign up for my Google Art Classroom. 😊
