Not only that, a vast body of research indicates that exercise is beneficial to cognitive function, which means consistent adherence to the program can have a positive impact on children's academic achievement.

Dance:

Learn different styles of dance with the owner of Miss Jessica's Dance Studio.

Fencing:

Taught by a professional Fencer, fencing is an excellent sport which builds confidence, social skills, body awareness and academic future. Colleges love to see fencing on application and continues use of the sport can score your child a scholarship. Safety gear is included.

Girls Scouts troop #5346 is a well-rounded club where participants will do engaging community service projects, gain badges, hear from guest speakers, and go on excursions, all while developing their leadership skills.

Literacy:

The first part of Literacy Club will focus on the adventurous literacy character, Flat Stanley. Students will have the opportunity to take their own Flat Stanley around and write about his adventures. They will also be able to send Flat Stanley to different places and have family and friends take him on adventures. The second part of the club will focus on Eric Carle's books and what makes them unique. Students will be able to understand how Carle uses collage in illustrations and then create their own work using collage. They will also learn about various science topics that are included in his books and create projects based on these topics.

Martial Arts:

Students will gain a sense of individual accomplishment. Through partner exercises students will build team spirit. Instructors aim to teach more than just kicking and punching skills. They want to give each student the necessary skills for real life and develop students more completely.
