Dear Parents/Guardians,

At the eighth grade level, students are encouraged to develop their reading skills and build their stamina through self-selecting and reading books on or near their level.

Some of the young adult fiction that students might read feature real-life situations such as, but not limited to:

- family issues
- substance abuse
- teen drama
- teen relationships
- some harsh (but not vulgar) language

If you feel uncomfortable with your child reading such texts, please submit a letter to the school stating as such. As always, your child's well-being is our first concern, and if you feel it is in your child's best interest to read literature that better fits with their maturity level, then we will ensure that is the case. If you have any further questions or concerns, feel free to contact the school.

Best,

The Eighth Grade Humanities Department
