The Mission Of Public School 70

To provide all students with the opportunity to succeed in a child centered environment that:

- is organized for effort and academic success in the development of self-management of learning skills, with social and emotional supports for mindfulness.
- communicates clear expectations, organized by content areas and utilizes fair and credible evaluations based on the Common Core Standards and Next Generation Learning Standards
- strives to enhance the efforts of educators through professional development discussions around practices and knowledge that support student excellence.
- formally recognizes the accomplishments of all students for increased performance levels in literacy, as reflected through independent reading levels, writing levels through the writing process and the ability to carry on conversations about a topic.
- is based on acquiring data through multiple forms of assessment and analyzes student results through Inquiry Work.
- provides differentiated instruction with rigorous tasks for student development in skills that promote a love of learning with increased performance levels and emotional stability.
- focuses on the Common Core and Next Generation Learning Standards as benchmarks for educators to cultivate academic success through diverse learning experiences
- challenges students' thinking through high level questioning .
- formally recognizes students' writing and accomplishments in all subjects. The goal is to deepen students' thinking skills with an understanding for the achievement of academic success and the demonstration of gained knowledge through effective oral and written communication. The learning environment will provide social emotional supports that enhance experiences through read alouds, echo reading, independent reading, literature circles, vocabulary enrichment, accountable talk, the writing process, comparison of ideas of thought, mathematical problem solving, inquiry based science, and the debating of topics and ideals based in social studies, building an awareness and an appreciation of the arts through music, dance and theatre, all integrated with technology.
