

Pajama Day!

The Carlstadt Public School students and staff successfully collected 100 pairs of pajamas to donate to Pajama Program! In turn, Scholastic will donate 100 new books to children in the program! What an impact we have made!

To thank everyone for their generosity, Friday, December 6th will be a pajama day for the entire school!

Pajamas should be school-appropriate – no shorts, short nightgowns, or tank tops are allowed. Also, slippers, house shoes, bathrobes or pajamas that cover the feet (onesies) are not allowed.

Take a moment to read about the beginnings of Pajama Program here:

<https://pajamaprogram.org/our-story/>

“Every child has the right to a good night. Every night in America, too many children go to sleep uncertain of what tomorrow will bring, compromising their health, school performance, and emotional well-being. At Pajama Program, we promote and support a comforting bedtime routine to help all children thrive by providing cozy pajamas, inspiring storybooks, and critical resources for caregivers. After all, Good Nights Are Good Days.”