

Principal's Log 2.30

Dear TMS families,

I know a lot is changing very fast, so I am writing with a few updates and holiday wishes.

We have learned from the New York State Board of Regents that June Regents Exams are cancelled. They have informed us that students need only to pass the course that they are in to earn regents credit. The Governor announced that schools in New York will remain closed until April 29. This may be extended and I will keep you informed about our end of the year plans.

Beginning Tuesday, April 14, Middle School students will be getting a more concrete distance learning schedule as part of a District wide plan. I will be sending that out on Monday morning.

Thank you to all of the middle school teachers. They are doing amazing work and continuing to become distance learning experts in a fast changing landscape. As we continue to innovate, I know that we are stronger together.

The third marking period ends on April 17. Please review your child's progress in the Portal continually to remain informed of their progress.

On the eve of the holiday weekend I am pleased to report that the Easter Bunny has been designated as an essential worker. :-)) In all seriousness, I wish you a happy holiday weekend.

Please visit our Facebook page for more information.

Stay safe.

Your Principal,

Gregory Stiefel
