

Dear LCCPS Parents & Families,

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself as the new Athletic Director for the upcoming year. I am busy familiarizing myself with all the programs and the requirements needed for your children to participate. I am sending this introductory packet with all the required paperwork and medical releases that need to be completed and signed before try outs.

In the past, we have had a tough time collecting all of this paperwork for the start of the Fall Season. It is with this in mind that we will be running a meeting on Wednesday, August 23rd, at 6:00. At this meeting, we will go over these requirements, and also give parents a chance to access computers to complete an online program on concussion protocols. It is strongly recommended that you attend this meeting so we can ensure that your son, or daughter, meets all of the requirements to be eligible to participate.

I'm very excited about this upcoming year. My relationship with the athletic program goes back to the very start, when we only had a boys and girls basketball teams. As the program grew, I also had the wonderful opportunity to coach the boys soccer team. During my time as a coach, I was proud of the fact that we valued every athlete, not only for the success they had within their sport, but also for their overall citizenship in the school. This is something I am looking to continue. Playing sports gives an opportunity for so many life lessons, and we are very fortunate to be able to give this opportunity to your children.

Please take the time to read and complete the attached documents. We are here to help in any way possible and if you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me, (978)323-0800, or smone@lccps.org.

Sincerely,

Steve Mone
Athletic Director

Parent/Athlete Concussion Information Sheet

A concussion is a type of traumatic brain injury that changes the way the brain normally works. A concussion is caused by bump, blow, or jolt to the head or body that causes the head and brain to move rapidly back and forth. Even a "ding, getting your bell rung," or what seems to be a mild bump or blow to the head can be serious.

WHAT ARE THE SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS OF CONCUSSION?

Signs and symptoms of concussion can show up right after the injury or may not appear or be noticed until days or weeks after the injury.

Did You Know?

- Most concussions occur without loss of consciousness.
- Athletes who have, at any point in their lives, had a concussion have an increased risk for another concussion.
- Young children and teens are more likely to get a concussion and take longer to recover than adults.

If an athlete reports one or more symptoms of concussion listed below after a bump, blow, or jolt to the head or body, s/he should be kept out of play the day of the injury and until a health care professional, experienced in evaluating for concussion, says s/he is concussion listed below to symptom-free and it's OK to return to play.

Signs Observed	Symptoms reported by athletes
Appears dazed or stunned Is confused about assignment or position Forgets an instruction Is unsure of game, score, or opponent Moves clumsily Answers questions slowly Loses consciousness (even briefly) Shows mood, behavior, or personality changes Can't recall events after hit or fall	Headache or "pressure in head" Nausea or vomiting Balance problems or dizziness Double or blurry vision Sensitivity to light Sensitivity to noise Feeling sluggish, hazy, foggy or groggy Concentration or memory problems Confusion Just not "feeling right" or "feeling down"

CONCUSSION DANGER SIGNS

In rare cases, a dangerous blood clot may form on the brain in a person with a concussion and crowd the brain against the skull. An athlete should receive immediate medical attention if after a bump, blow, or jolt to the head or body y'he exhibits any of the following danger signs:

- One pupil larger than the other
- Is drowsy or cannot be awakened
- A headache that not only does not diminish, but gets worse
- Weakness, numbness, or decreased coordination
- Repeated vomiting or nausea
- Slurred speech
- Convulsions or seizures
- Cannot recognize people or places
- Becomes increasingly confused, restless, or agitated
- Has unusual behavior
- Loses consciousness (even a brief loss of consciousness should be taken seriously)

Remember

Concussions affect people differently. While most athletes with a concussion recover quickly and fully, some will have symptoms that last for days, or even weeks. A more serious concussion can last for months or longer.

WHY SHOULD AN ATHLETE REPORT THEIR SYMPTOMS?

If an athlete has a concussion, his/her brain needs time to heal. While an athlete's brain is still healing, y'he is much more likely to have another concussion. Repeat concussions can increase the time it takes to recover. In rare cases, repeat concussions in young athletes can result in brain swelling or permanent damage to their brain. They can even be fatal.

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO IF YOU THINK YOUR ATHLETE HAS A CONCUSSION?

If you suspect that an athlete has a concussion, remove the athlete from play and seek medical attention. Do not try to judge the severity of the injury yourself. Keep the athlete out of play the day of the injury and until a health care professional, experienced in evaluating for concussion, says s/he is symptom-free and it's OK to return to play.

Rest is key to helping an athlete recover from a concussion. Exercising or activities that involve a lot of concentration, such as studying, working on the computer, or playing video games, may cause concussion symptoms to reappear or get worse. After a concussion, returning to sports and school is a gradual process that should be carefully managed and monitored by a health care professional.

It's better to miss one game than the whole season. For more information on concussions, visit: www.cdc.gov/Concussion.
